

A vintage, sepia-toned photograph of a man in a military uniform standing in front of a vehicle. The man is wearing a dark, buttoned uniform with a high collar and is looking directly at the camera. He is standing in front of a vehicle, possibly a truck or bus, which has a sign on its side that reads "NOT FOR SALE" and "D. MESSER". The photograph is heavily worn, with numerous scratches and creases visible across the surface.

A bald eagle with its wings spread, perched on a rolled-up American flag. The eagle is facing right, and the flag is draped over its feet. The background is a solid light green color.
